ICAR–National Research Centre on Pig, Rani, Guwahati, successfully organized a three-day Tribal Sub Plan (TSP) sponsored residential training programme on “Scientific Pig Production and Health Management Practices for Commercial Pig Farming” from 29th to 31st October 2025 under the guidance of Dr. V. K. Gupta, Director, ICAR–NRC on Pig.

A total of 24 participants attended the training, representing different districts of Assam—West Karbi Anglong (8), Kamrup (6), Goalpara (4), Majuli (4), Tamulpur (1) and Morigaon (1).

The training programme covered comprehensive aspects of scientific pig production, emphasizing breeding, feeding, housing, artificial insemination, health care, and management practices for sustainable commercial pig farming, hygienic slaughter and pork processing. Lectures, demonstrations, and interactive sessions were conducted by scientists from various disciplines of the institute.

The valedictory session, held on 31st October 2025, marked the successful conclusion of the programme. Participants expressed their gratitude to ICAR–NRC on Pig for organizing an enriching and well-structured training event. Certificates were distributed to all participants, and the session concluded with a vote of thanks, acknowledging the valuable guidance and support of Dr. V. K. Gupta, Director, ICAR–NRC on Pig, along with the contributions of the resource persons, supporting staff, and participants.
